

THE CANAL-BOAT CAMPAIGN.

It Will Be the Most Extensive Expedition Ever Known in Our Politics.

(New York Star, Oct. 4.)
The Democratic political excursion which was referred to in the Star yesterday, and which starts from Buffalo Monday, will be the most extensive expedition ever known in the history of American politics. Nothing of its kind has ever before been attempted. Ex-Mayor Teacher of Albany is the promoter of the plan. The intention is to speak down the great water artery of this State, the Erie Canal, and to fire with enthusiasm the entire country. Two of the most eloquent and effective speakers in the field, Congressman R. C. Breckinridge of Arkansas and Hon. Henry B. Clifford of New York, are the orators who are expected to hold up the reputation of Democracy in the many joint debates that will be the order of the day.

The most daring challenges to debate on the tariff question are issued and the flower of the Republican party in the State of New York will have an opportunity to test the metal of these two well known speakers. The stops will be made about twenty-five miles apart. This will give the people residing in a radius of fifteen miles an opportunity to drive in to the grand rallies in the afternoon Congressman Breckinridge will speak and at night Mr. Clifford will be the orator. A magnificent retinue will accompany the party under the charge of a skillful operator, and during the night the tariff records of noted Republicans will be flashed upon a twenty-foot canvas, so that people quarter mile distant can see the inconsistency of the Republican party on this great issue.

The canal boat that is to bear the distinguished guests is one of the most commodious and finely equipped on the Erie Canal. It will be decorated with beautiful portraits of Cleveland, Thurman and Hill, and will be a mass of flags and bunting. One of the best brass bands in the State will accompany the voyagers and discourse sweet music as they glide down the canal. Relays of horses are to be stationed along the line to facilitate quick passage. A battery of light artillery will be stationed on the bow to salute the towns. Two other canal boats are expected to accompany the party, carrying guests. All the Democratic campaign clubs of the various counties will be on hand to greet the Democrats on their arrival. The campaign clubs will act as a guard of honor along the canal, and will be decorated with flags and bunting. It is estimated that fully 200,000 people will attend these meetings. Overflow meetings will be addressed by the best of local speakers.

From Benjamin's Daily Diary.

Oh, my! I hardly know what to do. Somehow I seem to be the candidate for the Presidency and people are flocking to me. I am a little bit of a G. B. who is always getting up in front of me somehow and hiding me from people's sight. I do wish J. G. B. was a little smaller or I was a little bigger. I don't care much which.

But I am a candidate for President. I am! I am! I have to keep saying that to myself every hour in the day or I shall forget it myself. Because North, East, West, it's Blaine here, Blaine there, Blaine everywhere. Papers are full of what Blaine says—what I say. If Blaine sneezes once it's telegraphed all over the country. But I can sit and sneeze all day; I might sneeze by head off; I might sneeze a ten-horse-power engine with my sneezes, and the wouldn't give me over ten lines, and then stick it in some corner of the paper where they put rubbish.

To be or not to be. To be what? To be a candidate for President and have folks flocking to your running before you're elected. To be nominated head piper and have a fellow always in front of you blowing a horn ten feet long and making people forget you're one of the band at all. To try and say something about "protection" and the tariff, and have another man tell what he infers you try to say. To have to sit still and hear of this pompous old rooster patronizing you in an infernal sort of way, and saying: "Good fellow and means well, and doubtless he'll do the best he knows how if elected, which, of course, isn't so certain as if I had been nominated. But, my friends, we must all go to pull together and put him in the White House, for it's the best we can do now, and any scarecrow of a Republican is better than a Democrat; and I'll be there on hand, any way, when he's elected, to coach him and give him points and good advice and steer him out of the scrapes he'll be sure to get into if I'm not there—to be, in short, your real President—behind the little Indiana Gumbler who has to run to his grandfather for his half penny."

He will, will he? If a miracle elects me—and it looks as if only a miracle could do it—we'll see who'll run the White House. We'll see whether Indiana or Maine will furnish the brains and backbone.

And, then, his confounded vanity about his magnetic power! Why, I've got just as good magnetism as he has. We can manufacture just as good magnetism in Indiana as in Maine. I've got an aura around my head all the time just as big as his, only people won't see it. If I had had mine advertised as much as his, they would. But when people get a notion into their heads that they can see one thing in one man and it can't be seen or found in another, they'll stick to it out of pure credulity.—N. Y. Star.

South Carolina Military Academy.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the South Carolina Military Academy, which was held at the Charleston Hotel last Wednesday night, a note of declination was read from Prof. J. M. Pickel, lately elected professor of chemistry and physics in the academy.

It is known that the action of Professor Pickel was the result of his misunderstanding the scope of the chair which he had been chosen to fill.

Professor Pickel's declination being accepted, Prof. Charles L. Reese, Ph.D., associate professor of Johns Hopkins University and a distinguished graduate of the University of Heidelberg, was unanimously selected for the place.

General Johnston, superintendent of the academy, informed Reese by a telegram of the day morning by telegram of this election, and received from him in the afternoon the reply that he would reach the academy early next week.

It will be gratifying to the friends of this splendid institution to learn that this important chair will be so ably filled.—Charleston World.

FROM A DRUGGIST.

PALESTINE, Pa., May 31, 1887.
The demand for Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) is such that I now buy in half gross lots, and I unhesitatingly say that my customers are well pleased.

R. KENNEDY.

TEN YEARS WITH RHEUMATISM.

NEWTON, N. C., June 25, 1887.
GENTLEMEN: I am pleased in saying I have been a great sufferer of rheumatism for ten years, and I have exhausted almost every known remedy without relief. I was told to try B. B. B. which I did after long procrastination, and with the experience of three bottles, I am almost a healthy man. I take it as a part of my duty to make known your Blood Purifier to suffering humanity, and respectfully ask you to mail me one of your books of wonders.

Respectfully, W. I. MOREHEAD.

Refusing Fat.

Henry R. Hinkley, a culinary manufacturer of Northampton, Mass., has been asked for some "fat." Although an old-time Republican, he replied that he believed the party was wrong on the tariff question, and that he would not give it a cent to save it from perdition. Mr. Hinkley is said to have said that the many other manufacturers who believe that lower duties would help their business. About the only protected industries that are likely to come down with "fat" are the trusts.—Chicago Herald.

Those who contemplate a visit to Charleston will do well to read the advertisement of Mrs. Hasell and Miss Edwards in another column.

A WORD IN SEASON.

Everybody wants to claim something extraordinary for whatever they have as a curative agent. The value of B. B. B. is too well-known now for "claim-making." It stands alone, unparalleled as a Blood Remedy, and nobody can produce its superior. We don't fight other remedies, because B. B. B. takes care of itself. If you have anything the matter with your blood, try it—a single bottle will open your eyes. It is nonsense to try and argue with the public, and we don't do it. If one bottle don't do you any good, no matter how you suffer, we will give you a gross. Read these certificates:

IMPURE BLOOD.

A Case in Florida cured by B. B. B.

EVERETT, NEAR BROWNSVILLE, GA., May 27, '87.
My blood had been impure for a number of years. I broke out in ugly sores over my head and body and I could get nothing to heal them or purify my blood though I tried other so-called medicines until I found that most valuable medicine (Botanic Blood Balm) B. B. B. I have been using it for nearly a year, and in that time have taken about one dozen bottles, and I feel that I am nearly cured: the sores on my head and body all healed. My health is good and I can eat anything I desire.

Yours respectfully, EDWARD GLOVER.

ITS USE FOR KIDNEYS.

JESSE, GA., May 26, 1887.
I have been suffering from kidney disease for a month past, and the pain in my back was very severe. My occupation requires a good deal of writing at night and I suffered all the time. I saw one of your bottles of Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) and I commenced using it, and the pain in a great deal less. I have only used two bottles and believe it will cure a cure by the use of a few more bottles.

Yours respectfully, J. R. COLEMAN.

As Editor in Trouble.

"The singular mistake," explains the editor of a Texas paper, "by which our leading editorial appeared last week at the bottom of a column on the third page, was caused by our having entrusted the setting up of the same to a long, thin-sided Yankee printer who happened along and wanted a job. We told him to make up the forms and work the papers off while we went home to give our wife some much-needed assistance in making her apple butter. The article was in relation to the recent act of the governor in pardoning a sheep thief, and was headed 'Crowning Folly.' The blundering tramp set it up 'Granberry Jelly,' and checked the article in the department of 'Useful Household Recipes.' It is such things as these that make the life of a journalist one of constant care and anxiety, and make him an old man before his time."

It is Brilliant, but Dangerous.

It is pretty generally known that not a few young women use belladonna to give brilliancy to their eyes, but it is not so well known that a large majority of those who thus injure their sight and brave the danger of becoming blind are women who have light eyes. Dark-eyed women either have more sense or think their eyes are well enough as they are.—New York Sun.

THE BEST PURIFIER MADE.

DANMARTON, GA., June 25, 1887.

I have suffered with Catarrh for about four years, and after using four bottles of Botanic Blood Balm I had my general health greatly improved, and if I could keep out of the bad weather I would be cured. I believe it is the best purifier made.

Very respectfully, L. W. THOMPSON.

TWELVE YEARS AFFLICTED.

BUFFINGTON, IND., Feb. 8, 1887.

I have been afflicted with Blood Poison for twelve years. Have used prescription from physicians offered me during that period. Through the drugstore, W. A. Gutelius, I procured one bottle of B. B. B. and since have used three bottles, and am satisfied it has done me more good than anything I ever used. I am almost well, and am sure, within two or three weeks I will be perfectly well, after twelve years suffering intensely. Write or address JOSEPH FISZ, Wells Co., Ind. Baker and Confectioners.

SPLENDID FOR A SPRING TONIC.

ARLINGTON, GA., June 20, 1887.

I suffered with malarial blood poison more or less, all the time, and the only medicine that did me any good was B. B. B. It is undoubtedly the best blood medicine made, and for this malarial condition should be used by every one in the spring of the year, and in good summer, fall and winter as a tonic and blood purifier.

GIVES BETTER SATISFACTION.

Please send me one box Botanic Blood Balm Catarrh. I have used your medicine in my family for many years, and it has done me more good than any other medicine I have ever used. ## A PREACHER CURED OF DYSPEPSIA.

MOOREHEAD, Pa., LEON Co., July 20, 1886.

I have been a sufferer from indigestion and dyspepsia for a long time, and have tried many remedies, but until I was induced by my friends to try your B. B. B. received no relief, but since using it have found more relief and comfort than from any other treatment I have used. Hoping you will forward to my address your little 25-page book for prescription, also evidence of cures. Send at earliest date.

Respectfully, E. B. B. B. B.

A REMARKABLE SHOWING FOR B. B. B. AGAINST OTHER REMEDIES.

POTOMAC Co., April 20, 1887.

I have been suffering for more than thirty years with an itching and burning all over my face and body. I took eighteen bottles of one of your medicines and it did me no good. I am now using five bottles of B. B. B. and after using five bottles I felt better and stouter than I have felt for many years. The itching has nearly ceased, and I am confident that a few more bottles of B. B. B. will cure me entirely. I am a very old man and can now do a good day's work in my field. I consider it the best medicine I have ever seen, for it certainly did me more good than all the medicine I have ever taken. I had, in all, nearly a hundred rings on my face, neck and body.

JAMES PINKERSON.

TWO BOTTLES CURE RHEUMATISM.

BOROUGH, ARK., June 4, 1887.

I cheerfully state the following facts in regard to the use of your medicine in my family. My little son, 14 years of age, suffered from an acute attack of rheumatism, caused by undue exposure and chilling of the blood. I heard your remedy highly recommended, and purchased one bottle of Monieret & Bro., Prescott, Ark. In about one month, after using this bottle, he became so much better that I got the second bottle which is now being used, and my son is nearly well, and I think by removing him to a cooler summer climate (which I will do) and continuing its use, a perfect cure will be effected. I consider B. B. B. a most excellent blood purifier.

Yours, R. B. Agt., Broughton, Ark.
